

July Monthly Spotlight

This month, we shine a light on our Business Development Manager, Daniel Mayer.

For 5 years (and counting), working with the TRM team and supporting our valued customers has brought Daniel immense joy. Building strong relationships is at the core of Daniel's approach, and this sentiment perfectly aligns with TRM's values.

When he began his journey with TRM, the business model was primarily focused on generating growth in the Greater Toronto Area. As Daniel's role has evolved at TRM, he has seen national growth throughout the company: we have built meaningful relationships within electrical and tile distribution, have the best support staff, and can represent across Canada with a brilliant team of sales agents and contractors.

And while the company has witnessed growth, so has Daniel's progress in the industry.

Before he started working with TRM, Daniel began his footing in the electrical wholesale business in 2003, where he worked in the warehouse. He enjoyed interacting with the staff, electrical contractors, and vendor salespeople. In 2018, Dan joined TRM and took on the exciting role of Business Development Manager; each day brings new challenges and opportunities for growth, keeping him engaged and constantly evolving in his profession.

You might already feel like you know a lot about Daniel, but we haven't even scratched the surface. Many people might be surprised to learn he has a talent for writing lyrics and recording hip-hop music. On Daniel's bucket list, he aims to prioritize staying fit and embracing life's moments of fun.
